About these auditions: The Annapolis Symphony Orchestra, under Artistic Director & Conductor, José-Luis Novo, announces the audition for Section Viola to be held on Monday, May 20, 2024 at Maryland Hall in Annapolis, MD. The ASO is a per service orchestra and compensation for the 2024-2025 Season is $140.06 per service. A list of repertoire for the audition can be found at the website above.

TO APPLY: Qualified candidates should apply through the form on the ASO website. The deadline to apply is Friday, May 3, 2024. Applications must include:

- A resume, submitted through the website form or emailed to the address below.
- A $50 refundable deposit check made out to “Annapolis Symphony Orchestra.” Candidates will receive their audition deposit back on the day of the audition. Candidates will also receive their deposit back if they cancel by 5 pm on Friday, May 17, 2024. Checks will be deposited if a candidate cancels after this date or do not appear for the audition.
 - Checks are to be made out to “Annapolis Symphony Orchestra,” and mailed to:
Annapolis Symphony Orchestra
Attn: Auditions
801 Chase Street, Suite 204
Annapolis MD 21401

More information, including specific audition times, will follow after May 3 and upon receipt of resume and audition deposit. Not including both of these items will delay processing of your application. ASO reserves the right to decline to invite applicants to the audition based on an anonymous resume screening round.

If there are any questions, please email auditions@annapolissymphony.org or call Miriam Fogel, Director of Artistic Operations, at 410-267-3632.

Note: For those applying from out of state, please know that the Annapolis Symphony Orchestra is a per service orchestra and does not offer travel reimbursement or lodging during concert weeks. Foreign candidates need to have the proper visa in place in order to work and be paid by the Annapolis Symphony Orchestra, as ASO does not apply for visas for its musicians. The winner of the audition will be required to join the Musicians' Association of Metropolitan Baltimore, Local 40-543 even if they are a member of another local.
